FOLTRY.

THE CROWDED STREET.

Let me move slowly through the

Filled with an ever-shifting train.

Amid the sound of steps that heat.

The murmuring walks like antums

How fast the flitting figures come!
The mild, the fleros, the stony face—
Bome bright with thoughtiess smiles and some Where secret tears have left their

They pass to toil, to strife, to rest.

To hails in which the feast is apread—
To chambers where the funeral guest in silence sits heald the dead.

And some to happy homes repair.
Where children, pressing check to check,
With mute caresses shall declars
The tenderness they cannot speak.

Cach where his tasks or pleasures call, They pass, and head each other not. There is Who heads, Who helds them

In His large love and boundless thought.

These struggling tides of life, that

In wayward, almiess course to tend.
Are eddles of the mighty stream.
That rolls to its appointed end.

BREED THEATER.

Another strong bill at the Breed thea'er, offered today, is the stirring western headliner, A Cowboy's Love. This stery is typically western and breathes of the plains in every scene. Herbert Fitzroy, a young cowboy, was snything but pleased when Cleo Graham, his finicee, bestowed her smiles and dances on Bui Marsden at the regular cowboy ball After much pre-timinary excitement and gun play be got Dan, a "soreh ad" cowboy, to carry out a victous plan which made it appear that Bud was a horse thief.

The thread of the plot runs through many exciting events. Bud was finally arrested and finally seized by a mob bent on lynching him. Cleo discovered the plot and after a wild ride in an antomobile saved Bud's life just in the nick of time. This is a westert story that everybody will like, and full of action from start to finish. Avolher western pleture that is of the true type of the breezy character of the plains, is snittled Jack Oskhurst, the Gambler. The title of this picture is highly misleading, as it is one of the protuctions of the ecasen. There is a splendid plot, which is most compelling in its influence. did plot, which is most compelling in its influence.

Miss Day sinss, Recause I'm in Leve With You, a beautiful song, in which is joined by Mr. Calkins, one of the Breed's favorites.

NEWBURGH, N. Y.

Charles A. Harrison.

Local friends are in Packerville today, at the burial of Charles A. Harrison of No. 6 Wells avenue, East Harrford, who died at his home Tuesday afternoon at 1.10 o'clock, after an illness of fourteen weeks. Death was due to heart trouble. During part of that time he was well enough to take occasional drives, but of late he had been confined to his bed.

Mr. Harrison was born in Plainfield June 24, 1846, the only son of Charles and Amanda Harrison. In his early iffe he was engaged in the grocery business, but for nearly thirty-eight years had been in the employ first of the Hartford, Providence & Fishicil Ratiroad Co., which later became the New York & New England Ratiroad Co., and finally, for sixteen years, with the New York, New Haven & Hartford Rallroad Co., He was a station agant for the first two companies and a vard clerk for the last named one.
He removed to East Hartford from Windham in 1896, He was a man of pleosant and kindly disposition and Bows and Arrows, Parcheesi, Chess India, Playing Cards, Sewing Cards, oct28d During 1910 over 58,100 emigrants embarked at Greek ports bound for North and South America. Of this number it is calculated that some 48,000 were for the United States. Of the total number of emigrants embarked only about 20,000 were from Greeks proper, the balance coming from Turkey and other places in the Levant.

is reported to have been devised by a Jepanese violin maker in the city of Nagoya. The invention is named the raikin, and seems likely to superscue the samisen. It has the shape of a guitar, save in the nock, which is the only part resembling a semisen. There are four strings to it, and by minder lation of the keys the instrament can be made to do the work of several samisen. "PARISIAN SAGE is the best hair grower and beautifier and dandruff cure. I lost all my hair through typhoid fever; I was almost baldheaded and my scalp was as sore as could be. I tried everything, but in vain. Finally I tried PARISIAN SAGE, and after using one bottle my hair started to grow, and has grown three or four inches inside of two months. I advise every woman who wants beautiful hair to use PARISIAN SAGE." Miss Meta M. Kruger, Browntown, Minn.

The unexplainable of battered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they, for the most part, trust to chance and pay the penalty.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable wakes women normal.
